The Funds are actively managed by DJE and, where a benchmark index is indicated, without reference to it. The presented charts and tables concerning performance are based on our own calculations according to the gross performance (BVI) method² and illustrate past development. Past performance is not indicative for future returns. The BVI method takes into account all costs incurred at the fund level (e.g. management fees), the net performance and the issue fee. Additional individual costs may be incurred at the customer level (e.g. custodian fees, commission and other charges). Model calculation (net): an investor wishes to purchase shares for Euro 1,000. With a maximum issue surcharge of 0.00%, he has to spend a one-off amount of Euro 0.00 when making the purchase. In addition, there may be custodian costs that reduce performance. The custodian costs are decided by your bank's price list and service charges

Investment Approach

The asset allocation of the DJE - Multi Asset & Trends fund follows a consistent bottom-up approach. It is based on fundamental factors such as market positioning, balance sheet and earnings potential, valuation, management quality, and sustainability criteria. The fund management takes a flexible approach to asset classes and allocates across sectors and countries with the aim of managing risk and capitalising on opportunities that arise. Monthly Commentary

After a very volatile start to the month, the international stock markets were relatively calm and largely positive in August. The German share index DAX rose by 2.15%, outperforming the broad European index Stoxx Europe 600, which advanced by 1.57%. On the other side of the Atlantic, the broad US index S&P 500 rose by a moderate 0.19%. In Hong Kong, the Hang Seng Index rose by +1.83%. Overall, global equities, as measured by the MSCI World, climbed by +0.44% - all index figures in euro terms. Weak US labour market data at the beginning of the month gave rise to fears that the USA could slide into recession. In addition, a (moderate) interest rate hike by the Bank of Japan jeopardised the usual interest rate differential business, the so-called yen carry trade. As a result, the Japanese share index Topix suffered a daily loss of -12.2%. This was also felt by the other major markets, which fell, albeit not as sharply. However, the situation calmed down again after 5 August. On the one hand, better economic and consumer data came from the USA and the US Federal Reserve confirmed the markets' expectations of a rate cut in September. The bond markets reacted differently to the market turbulence and the renewed high expectations of interest rate cuts. The yield on 10-year German government bonds only fell from 2.30% to 2.29%, while the yield on their US counterparts fell somewhat more sharply, by 13 basis points (bp) to 3.90%. The gold price also benefited from the prospect of falling real interest rates. The price of a troy ounce rose by +2.28% from USD 2,447.60 to USD 2,503.39. Against this market backdrop, the DJE - Multi Asset & Trends remained stable with a gain of 0.24%. Globally, property, utilities, consumer staples and pharmaceuticals were the best performing sectors in August, while energy and consumer cyclicals were particularly disappointing. The fund management adjusted the allocation over the course of the month and increased the weighting of the technology, healthcare and chemicals sectors, among others. At the same time, the credit institutions and energy sectors, among others, were reduced. As a result, the equity allocation fell slightly from 68.23% to 67.83%. The bond ratio remained stable at 22.84% (previous month: 22.47%). The precious metals ratio rose slightly from 7.29% to 7.57% and liquidity fell to 1.76%.
