Investment Strategy

DJE - Zins & Dividende is a multi-asset fund managed independently from any benchmark. The fund aims for absolute returns with the help of conservative drawdown management. On the equity side, the fund invests primarily in equities with above-average dividend yields. The investment objective is to invest across asset classes and generate regular income from fixed income instruments, supplemented by capital gains and dividends on the equity side. The selection criteria for companies are recurring dividend payments as well as investor-friendly corporate policies such as stock buybacks. While the focus is on dividend paying stocks, the fund may also invest in companies that do not currently pay a dividend. The fund's flexible investment approach allows it to adapt quickly to changing market conditions. To reduce volatility, at least 50% of the fund is invested in bonds. Equity exposure fluctuates between 25% and 50%. Currency risks can be hedged opportunistically.

The Funds are actively managed by DJE and, where a benchmark index is indicated, without reference to it. The presented charts and tables concerning performance are based on our own calculations according to the gross performance (BVI) method² and illustrate past development. Past performance is not indicative for future returns. The BVI method takes into account all costs incurred at the fund level (e.g. management fees), the net performance and the issue fee. Additional individual costs may be incurred at the customer level (e.g. custodian fees, commission and other charges). Model calculation (net): an investor wishes to purchase shares for Euro 1,000. With a maximum issue surcharge of 0.00% , he has to spend a one-off amount of Euro 0.00 when making the purchase. In addition, there may be custodian costs that reduce performance. The custodian costs are decided by your bank's price list and service charges

Investment Approach

The objective of DJE - Zins & Dividende is to generate a steady return – even in volatile markets. On the fixed income side, the fund invests primarily in debt instruments from sovereign issuers and corporates with investment-grade ratings. On the equity side, the fund relies on the established DJE dividend strategy. We believe that dividends can make a strong contribution to performance over time due to the compound interest effect. Time-series analysis shows that only around half of the equity returns are due to capital gains. The other half is attributable to dividends. The fund aims for an above-average dividend yield relative to the broader market. However, the fund may also include stocks that do not currently pay a dividend. The asset allocation is flexible and is adjusted depending on market environment. To reduce volatility, at least 50% of the fund are invested in bonds. Equity exposure fluctuates between 25% and 50%. Currency risks can be hedged opportunistically.

Flexible Asset Allocation

Opportunities

- + The portfolio is continuously adjusted to the changing market environments.
- + Possible share price gains are complemented by interest income from international bonds and dividend distributions.
- + The balanced fund aims for a steady positive performance with low volatility in all market environments.
- + Regular returns from interest and dividends can serve as a buffer in the event of stock market slumps.

Risks

- There is a currency risk for euro investors in securities not denominated in euros.
- The value of an investment may rise or fall and investors may not get back the amount invested.
- The income from interest and dividends is not guaranteed.
- Bonds are subject to price risks if interest rates rise, as well as country risks and the creditworthiness and liquidity risks of their issuers.
- Share prices can fluctuate relatively strongly due to market, currency and individual value factors.

Monthly Commentary

The international stock markets performed unevenly in June - European performance was weak, in the USA it was strong. As announced, the US Federal Reserve maintained its key interest rate level. However, US inflation fell moderately and the core rate excluding food and energy fell slightly more, so that market expectations of a key interest rate cut in the current year remained unchanged. This supported the US stock markets. As expected, the European Central Bank lowered its key interest rates, although this move was already largely reflected in share prices. What weighed on European stock markets, however, were the European elections and the early elections in France that were announced as a result. As a result, there was a massive sell-off in French shares and government bonds. On the bond markets, German government bonds in particular benefited from the ECB's interest rate cut. Yields on 10-year bonds fell by 16 basis points to 2.50%, while those of their US counterparts fell by just 10 basis points to 4.40%. In this market environment, the DJE - Zins & Dividende rose by 2.73%. On the global equity market, half of the sub-sectors produced positive results. The best performing sectors were technology, consumer cyclicals and healthcare, while commodities, consumer goods & services and utilities were particularly disappointing. The strongest individual stock results came from semiconductor manufacturer Taiwan Semiconductors, US technology giant Apple and US pharmaceuticals group Eli Lilly. In contrast, the French energy group Total Energies, the pan-Asian insurance group AIA (based in Hong Kong) and the British pharmaceutical group Glaxo Smith Kline, among others, detracted from performance. Over the course of the month, the fund management increased the weighting of the technology and healthcare sectors, among others, and reduced the credit institutions and insurance sectors, among others. As a result, the equity allocation rose slightly from 47.46% to 48.50%. On the bond side, the fund benefited in particular from its exposure to high-quality government bonds. The turmoil triggered by the call for early elections in France only affected Italian issuers and government bonds in the portfolio - the fund does not hold any French government bonds. Over the course of the month, the fund management reduced supranational bonds denominated in Mexican pesos due to the volatility on the currency market following the elections in Mexico. On the other hand, the fund subscribed to high-quality corporate bonds. As a result of the adjustments, the bond ratio rose slightly from 50.06% to 50.77%. Liquidity fell from 2.47% to 0.73%.
