Investment Strategy

The DJE - Gold & Ressourcen is a thematic global equity fund. The concentrated portfolio of 50-70 stocks focuses on companies in the mining, processing and marketing of gold. Equities from the broader commodities universe, such as diversified mining companies, non-ferrous metals, oil and gas, can also be added for further diversification. The investment strategy is completely independent from any benchmark requirements and the share of gold mining stocks can vary between 30 and 100%. With gold as the investment focus, the fund offers diversification and a lower correlation to traditional investment strategies.

The Funds are actively managed by DJE and, where a benchmark index is indicated, without reference to it. The presented charts and tables concerning performance are based on our own calculations according to the gross performance (BVI) method<sup>2</sup> and illustrate past development. Past performance is not indicative for future returns. The BVI method takes into account all costs incurred at the fund level (e.g. management fees), the net performance and the issue fee. Additional individual costs may be incurred at the customer level (e.g. custodian fees, commission and other charges). Model calculation (net): an investor wishes to purchase shares for Euro 1,000. With a maximum issue surcharge of 5.00%, he has to spend a one-off amount of Euro 50.00 when making the purchase. In addition, there may be custodian costs that reduce performance. The custodian costs are decided by your bank's price list and service charges

Investment Approach

The thematic and globally investing equity fund focuses on gold and precious metals, diversified commodity groups, base metal producers, chemical companies and oil & gas producers. The fund pursues a bottom-up approach with high-quality stock selection, focusing on the fundamental key financial indicators of the companies. We invest primarily in gold producers with a competitive cost structure that generate free cash flows even at lower gold prices. In general, negative or falling real interest rates are positive for tangible assets, particularly gold. Demand for gold is likely to rise if real interest rates are low or fall.

Investing in the complete cycle

Opportunities

- + In the long term, high upside potential for stocks of the gold and commodity sector
- + Exchange rate gains in global investments are possible
- + Increasing demand for physical gold due to declining confidence in established currencies and high demand from the emerging market jewellery sector; this should lead to higher gold prices and thus to higher prices for gold mining stocks

Risks

- Shares in the commodity and precious metals sector are generally more volatile than the overall market
- Currency risks resulting from a high proportion of foreign investments
- In addition to market price risks (equity and currency risks), there are country and credit risks

Monthly Commentary

In June, the DJE - Gold & Ressourcen fell by -2.38%. The XAU gold mining index lost -5.24% in US dollar terms and -4.08% in euro terms due to the appreciation of the US dollar. Gold mining shares thus underperformed the gold price itself, which fell by -0.2% to USD 2,326.75 per troy ounce and rose by 1.08% to EUR 2,170.75 per troy ounce in euro terms. Although the gold price was flat in June, it gained 12.8% (USD) and 16.2% (EUR) in the first half of 2024 due to the appreciation of the US dollar. The most important influencing factor in the first six months of the year is likely to have been the ongoing purchases by central banks, particularly the People's Bank of China (PBOC). According to a recent survey by the World Gold Council, most central banks plan to continue increasing their gold reserves over the next 12 months. Positive signals also came from another important driver of gold demand in June: gold ETFs. After months of sustained outflows in the ETF gold holdings tracked by Bloomberg, June saw the first monthly inflows since May 2023. A combination of a more dovish US Federal Reserve, rising ETF inflows and continued central bank purchases (especially in China) should continue to provide positive support for the gold price in the second half of 2024. The highest positive performance contributions in June came from the Canadian gold mining company Kinross Gold, the German-American industrial group Linde and the Swiss building materials manufacturer Holcim, among others. By contrast, the positions of the two Canadian mining companies Cameco and Pan American Silver and the Australian gold mining company Evolution Mining, among others, had a negative impact. The weighting of gold mining stocks was over 51% in the reporting period, almost unchanged from the previous month. The focus remains on solidly financed producers that generate positive free cash flows even at lower gold prices and also have a certain growth perspective. Broad-based commodity/chemical stocks generally outperformed gold mining stocks in June: the MSCI World Materials index fell by -2.36%, while the CRB commodity index rose by 1.33% in EUR terms - both index figures in euro terms.
